

Recruit Release Notes Changes Launching 2016-11-17

Title Codes

As a result of a recent Department of Labor ruling on overtime, we have added 79 new title codes to Recruit for analysts to choose from when creating a new recruitment. If you have any questions relating to the DoL ruling, please contact Interim Executive Director Amy Lee at AmyK.Lee@ucop.edu or call the Academic Personnel and Programs main line at (510) 987-9479.

Recruitments

Adding an approval has always been easy. Perhaps too easy. We've received feedback that it was too easy to add an accidental approval due to an incorrect button click. In order to prevent these accidental approvals, we have added confirmation popups for all approvals. Now, approvers must confirm their approval within a popup before their step is approved.

As discussed at the Governance Board meeting on November 2nd, we have added Native Hawaiian/Other Pacific Islander and Two or More Races/Ethnicities as options to the Affirmative Action Goal feature found on recruitment Diversity pages. Not every academic unit will have these as goals, but they're now available for those that need them. Of course, this only affects campuses that have the Affirmative Action Goals feature enabled on their Recruit sites.

We made a few visual tweaks that we believe will make recruitments easier to user. We have made it so recruitment titles are clickable, not just the JPF numbers.

We also changed the color of the submit for approval link within the recruitment to make it easier for analysts to see their next step in the recruitment details panel.

Finally, we updated the personal note popup design both to improve the feature's usability and make it look like the rest of the site. We also got to remove some old code from Recruit, which makes it easier for us to continue delivering new stuff to you!

Note

Limit personal notes to those that are job-related. All personal notes become part of the search record and may be accessed through a public records request or during an audit.
