Fall 2021 Programming

Advising
Reach out to one (or more) of our outstanding faculty Core Advisors for advice, support, or just to chat! Faculty Core Advisors from a variety of disciplines are available for one-on-one advising and support. Discussion topics can range from specific career concerns to where to find the best coffee near campus.

Forums
Register to attend our larger group events, designed for meaningful discussion and career support. All fall events will be held on Zoom.

What’s my identity?
Oct. 8th, 9:30 - 11:00am
What do you want to be known for? How does one prioritize research, teaching, public service, administration, and other myriad opportunities—and how do these choices affect your professional identity? This forum will provide a space for faculty at various career stages to reflect on where they have been and where they may be going.

Mentorship as a community of practice
Nov. 4th, 1:00 - 2:30pm
How do you make your mentorship more efficient, impactful, and sustainable? This forum will focus on creating inclusive learning environments through a mentoring community of practice, where everyone has the opportunity to be both mentor and mentee.

#$$^%*! Now what??
Dealing with rejection in the academy
Dec. 3rd, 1:00 - 2:30pm
This forum will focus on ways that your colleagues deal with rejection and find the strength to get back up and keep going. We will also discuss support systems at the university that can help you with both writing as well as grant submission and support.

Core Advisor Conversations
Join a smaller, informal gathering on Zoom hosted by faculty Core Advisors. These sessions are a great way to meet Core Advisors and other faculty from across campus.
